Dear Parents and Carers,

Next Thursday 5th March is World Book Day! Our staff team loves World Book day and we have an exciting day of activities planned. This year we are celebrating it in a different way and we are not asking children to dress up.

Instead, during the day, children will be joining up with other classes to make reading dens which leads nicely to the question: What does every reading den need? A blanket, a cuddly toy, a friend and a book to share!

We can supply the friends but we are asking children to bring a blanket (if possible) for den building, a not-too-big teddy bear and their favourite book. Staff will be bringing in their favourite book to share as well – which is a tricky thing to choose!

We are also working with Henry Adams Estate Agents who are supporting our World Book day celebrations by launching a book day competition this week. They will be visiting us tomorrow during assembly and talking to the children about the competition. There will be a prize for each year group.

On the day, children will be given their World Book Day voucher, they can use this to buy either one of the £1 books from a participating retailer or they can use it as a £1 contribution towards a book.

Additionally, we have our second Read with Me at 3! Session on Monday 2nd March. Parents and carers are invited along at 3pm to join in with reading activities in the class room. If you would like to come along and maybe share a book from home that you love (age appropriate of course!) you are more than welcome.

If you have any questions about World Book Day please contact me via office@plastowkirdford.com or in person.

Yours sincerely,

Miss Clark
